DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 6-8, 12-13, and 15-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the rotor and the plurality of cores must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objections to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 7, 8, 12, 13, and 15-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,747,897 to Iwasa et al. in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,117,137 A to Kobayashi.

Iwasa et al. clearly teaches the construction of a multi-phase motor comprising:

a plurality of stator (Abstract) parts;

Art Unit: 2834

a plug part (84) having plug pins (85) with strip conductors for electrical connection to a power supply source;

a coil carrier for each of the a plurality of stator parts, the coil carrier having a winding wire connected directly to one of the plug pins;

an electrically insulating connecting piece (22a) extending between each coil carrier and each plug part and having a winding wire section and a winding wire guide duct for receiving the winding wire connected to the one of the plug pins;

each coil carrier being made integral with the respective electrically conductive connecting piece and the respective plug part; and one plug part including passage openings for receipt of the plug pins of another plug part.

However, it fails to disclose a plug part for each of the plurality of stator parts.

Kobayashi teach the construction of a stepping motor having a multiple lead wire configuration for the purpose of enabling the stators to be used as an annular motor having a center opening.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use the multiple lead wire configuration disclosed by Kobayashi on the a multi-phase motor disclosed by Iwasa et al. for the purpose of enabling the stators to be used as an annular motor having a center opening.

5. With regards to claims 7 and 8, Iwasa et al. in view of Kobayashi disclose a the plug part wherein, there is firmly attached a first plurality of plug pins and a second plurality of plug pins are firmly attached in a separate removably retained pin strip, and arranged in a row.

Art Unit: 2834

6. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 5,747,897 to Iwasa et al. in view of U.S. Patent No. 5,117,137 A to Kobayashi as applied to claims 7, 8, 12, 13, and 15-17 above, further in view of U.S. Patent No. 4,616,149 to Best.

Iwasa et al. in view of Kobayashi disclose the construction of a multi-phase motor as described above.

However, it fails to disclose pin strips, each holding a plug housing by a catch connection.

Best teach the construction of a connector arrangement connecting one of the plug pins and the strip conductors in a locking manner for the purpose of joining the cable ends of a stator winding of electric motors.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use the connector arrangement disclosed by Best on the multi-phase motor disclosed by Iwasa et al. for the purpose of joining the cable ends of a stator winding of electric motors.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. See PTO-892.

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2834
